NEWS AND COMMENT.

The Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke company, which is the legal name of the Ohio river coal trust, has just made a sale of 5,000,000 bushels, or 200,000 tons, to be delivered at New Orleans for export. The transaction is said to include the sale of two hundred coal barges of a carrying capacity of one thousand tons each, which indicates that the coal under contract is to be delivered at one rise of water.

In a speech at the Republican club dinner in New York Tuesday evening Whitelaw Reid discussed a protectorate for Cuba—the local government under its own control, but its foreign relations, and perhaps its customs, under ours. CAIRO'S BLAZE

Fire This Morning Destroyed a Block of Business Houses in the Egyptian City.

LOSS UPWARDS OF $100,000

Among the Destroyed Property was the Plant of the Long Established Cairo Bulletin.

ORIGIN OF THE FIRE EXPLAINED

There was a very disastrous fire in Cairo this morning early. The scene was a block on the Leven front, in which were located many large business houses. The details of the fire are not at hand, but it is known that the loss was very heavy and the insurance large.

The fire started just after midnight and in spite of great fighting spread gradually, until it had almost spent itself.

The block well destroyed contained among other houses the following: Lewis & Co., commission merchants; Charles & Son, insurance agents; John A. Haynes, boat store; Wm. Loneragan, commission merchant; N. Goldsmith, hides and furs; P. A. Conant, produce; the Daily Bulletin, newspaper and job office, and many others. These sustained total losses. The wholesale grocery of Wood & Bennett was severely damaged by water.

The aggregate loss will be between $75,000 and $100,000, with $40,000 insurance.

It has been a long time since Cairo has had such another fire and it is feared it will be quite a set back to the place. The block burned, however, was an old one and when rebuilt will be a great improvement.

The origin of the fire was in the basement of Lewis & Co's commission house, where a gas stove was used to ripen bananas. It was well under way when discovered.

COMPLETE VICTORY

THE INSURANCE COMPANY FINALLY CLOSES OUT

In the Puryear Case. Petition for a Re-hearing awarded in the Court of Appeals.—Other McCracken Cases.

The court of appeals at Frankfort, Ky., yesterday overruled the petition for a new hearing in the case of Mrs. Ella Puryear, of the city, against the Provident Savings Life association, thus finally ending this well known suit.

The action was to recover $10,000 insurance on the life of the late Col. T. H. Puryear, which the company refused to pay on account of the provisions of its insurance clause.

Mrs. Puryear won the suit in the lower court, it was affirmed by the court of appeals, and a motion for a rehearing by the company's attorneys was overruled yesterday, settling the case once for all.

The court of appeals also decided another case from McCracken. It reversed the case of Mrs. M. Mayes against T. T. Payne, Sr., for a home-stead in property on West Madison.

The motion to affirm in the case of Rose Ledinger against the Palmetto Railway and Light plant was overruled. A verdict was rendered for $200 and the case was taken to the court of appeals, when Ledinger's attorneys moved to affirm on account of the other side having allowed the time to expire.

The jury, it will be recalled, rendered a verdict in favor of the defendant, and the plaintiffs asked for a new trial, which is now refused.

An appeal was prayed and granted.

Mr. J. W. Hart, proprietor of the Hart House, was on his way to market about 5 o'clock this morning when an unknown man threw something that looked like a pistol up into the face, as he was going along near Broadway and Third, and said, "Hold on there, stop!"
Mr. Hart did not "hold on," however, nor did he stop. He kept going and was much relieved to find that the man did not follow.

WORKS LIKE MAGIC FOR GIRLS
My daughter is much better. She is now starting on her third bottle. Wine of Cardui and Thorndyke's Black-Draught have worked like magic with her. I have told some of my acquaintances of your medicines and can heartily recommend them to others. My daughter had both uterine and ovarian symptoms, side ache, backache, and a headache now and then, especially in the top of the head. But the most stubborn pain was in the left side at the lower edge of the ribs or three or four inches above the upper part of the groin, with constant aching and soreness during the period.
Mrs. B. T. MILLIKEN.
Mothers whose daughters are nearing the age of womanhood should give a care to their condition, before they reach the stage of suffering Mrs. Milliken describes. Too often beautiful and promising girls become permanent invalids because of a lack of proper caution at this critical period of their lives. The important thing for a girl just entering womanhood is to be started right. Then a healthy and happy life will follow.

WINE OF CARDUI
Is the great emmenagogue. It will regulate the menstrual flow. It will start the girl right. Every mother should present her daughter with a bottle of Wine of Cardui and teach her to rely on it as a friend. Girls who take an occasional dose of this pure Wine are strong and healthy. They avoid much agony and torture. Mrs. Milliken's daughter was cured of all her suffering and now she is a strong woman. Your daughter may be strong. There is no danger to her in the coming of the menstrual habit where Wine of Cardui is allowed to start healthy periods. Thousands of mothers endorse Wine of Cardui. All druggists sell $1.00 bottles.

The Louisville Post of yesterday says: Pilot Billy Chadwick, Louisville's encyclopedia on inland marine matters, is lying very ill at his home, 2300 Eddy street, having been laid up several days with something like pneumonia, and he needs the attention of his friends. Mr. Chadwick, in health, enjoys one of the rarest memories of any man in his profession, and his catalogue of steamboats goes clear back to the first one of any and all types. He was an old-time flatboat floater, and his record of incidents, accidents and marine history is wonderful. He is a gentleman of the old school. During the great war Billy Chadwick stood at the wheel, and went through many romances, never flickering from his duty. He is one of the few ypp old pilots remaining in Louisville.

SOCIAL NOTES.

The Young Ladies' Glee club met this afternoon with Mrs. James E. English.
The ladies of the synagogue promise the greatest treat of the season to be given in the next few weeks. It is to be a carnival and the plans are for something unique in that line. They will have the booths with "bargains for sale," an attractive diversified program daily, a score of interesting villages—in fact all the essentials of a jolly carnival. That it will be a great success is not to be doubted, as the ladies in charge are well versed in this line of entertaining.

LONG SKIRTS ARE LEGAL. WAS A GREAT MISCHIEF MAKER.

New York courts acknowledge long skirts to be the inalienable right and privilege of women. In the appellate division of the supreme court the other day a suit for damages against the Kingston City Railway company was decided in favor of the woman—the company's defense being that it was not responsible for such accident as the catching of a dress skirt caught in a trolley.
According to the court, however, any and all street car companies must allow sufficient time to a woman alighting from a street car not only to step off, but to clear her skirts from any obstruction on the platform upon which they have caught.
If the conductor starts the car the instant she alights, before she has had time to release her skirts from such obstruction, and she is dragged along by the car and injured, the railway company is liable for the injuries thus sustained.
Gen. Joseph Wheeler is understood to be a candidate for congress again from his district in Alabama.
The retail general, Mallas, is reported to have been killed by Americans in the Philippines. A number of insurgents, including a colonel and seven captains, surrendered.

Milan, formerly king of Serbia, who died on the 11th in Vienna, will probably be remembered long in history as an example of all that a monarch should not be. Dissipated, profligate and unscrupulous, about his only public performances worthy of note were those by which he kept Serbia perpetually torn by dissension or embroiled with its neighbors. Even after his abdication, which followed his disgraceful quarrel with Queen Natalie, he managed to keep several other European courts in turmoil by his capacity for getting into trouble. On the throne he had been a constant menace to the safety of his country, which he led in defeat in the wars which he himself precipitated. Out of power he was scarcely less dangerous, and his comparatively recent success in getting himself appointed commander in chief of the Serbian army showed the dangerous extent to which he still wielded influence. Throughout his whole career, characterized chiefly by his dissolute habits and his predilection for looting public funds, gambling and dissipation, it is questionable if there is a single noteworthy creditable act to offset his manifold crimes.
